

POWER OF TEACHING

Lowell Public Schools

Volume 1, Issue 4

December 2011

SUPERINTENDENT'S MESSAGE

THIS IS A SPECIAL HOLIDAY EDITION OF THE MONTHLY NEWSLETTER

WHICH TRULY SERVES AS A LETTER OF THANKS TO YOU ALL.....

[The regular news of the school system will be sent in the next edition]

Colleagues,

At this moment of holiday celebrations for some and vacation time for all I want to make this time at mid year to thank each of you for your tireless work and commitment to the children of Lowell. The volume of information and new trends in education in our country, state and district are happening at a fast pace. New standards, new assessments, new ever changing mandates, and severe public scrutiny are occurring on all levels that trickle down to impact all of us in our daily work.

Although the field of education changes every day, there are critical components that remain constant and that makes being affiliated with public education ever promising. The most important being that this work of educating our youth is what matters and lasts nationally and internationally. The opportunities that we enjoy every day in working with children are integral to their development and our commitment to them is critical to their growth. For each of us who commit to this work, regardless of your role in the Lowell Public Schools, I value you as an important part of this organization. It takes all of us together to create the best progress for children and we all contribute to their future. This is not easy work but no matter what changes in the field the good news is that kids are still cute and the work is still rewarding!

As your Superintendent, I realize every day how fortunate I am to work for and with such a talented and committed staff. I would like to this time before our first official vacation to wish you a peaceful and happy holiday season and winter break and thank you. I hope that you enjoy your time off and the magic of good friends and family during this season.

