Supply List(Full Return to School)

Before the start of a new school year, students often "stock up" on back to school supplies. Often times, parents spend a good deal of money on the latest advertised items and frequently, those items are quite unnecessary. In order to avoid purchasing supplies that will not be used, we have prepared a list of items that students will need. Many of these items go on sale in August. We have broken down the needs according to the academic area and general supplies. Providing as many of these supplies as possible for the first week of school will ensure a successful start to your child's school year.
