Dear Parents and Guardians:

We wanted to inform you that the Lowell Public Schools has continued in-person special education assessments throughout the district's decision(s) for remote learning. In addition, Lowell Public Schools has continued to follow all the Department of Elementary and Secondary Education's (DESE) guidelines for safety. The following is an outline of what to expect if you are involved with Special Education Testing.

If you have a signed consent for an initial evaluation or additional testing on a re-evaluation, you can expect a call to schedule an in-person testing session. If you have not received a phone call in regards to your student's evaluation, and have signed a consent, please reach out to the special education team by phone or email.

- If you have not signed consent it will be mailed to parent/guardian
 - If parent/guardian agrees, the consent can be signed on date of testing (consents must be signed before testing can occur)
- School Psychologists/Related Service Providers will contact parent/guardian to schedule an appointment for testing
 - Provide date and time
 - Identify location of testing
- School Psychologists/Related Service Providers will schedule a follow up call, if needed, to ask basic screening questions and will conduct testing interviews via zoom or phone conference
- Upon arrival to the designated testing area all persons will need to check in and wait to be escorted to the testing site. Parents will need to wait in the designated area and cannot escort their child to the testing area, unless the school psychologist/related service provider has made a determination that it is needed.

- Both the child and the parent/guardian must follow PPE requirements unless medical documentation is provided at the date of the testing session.
 - During the test, the school psychologists/related service providers will maintain 6 feet of distance without interfering with the standardized testing procedures. School psychologists/related service providers will notify and consult with parents if mask wearing and/or other PPE guidelines may impact the assessment results in order to determine a path forward.
- During testing a designated area meeting all PPE requirements will be identified. Tables will be positioned to ensure safety and a plexiglass divider will be placed in the middle of the table.
- Prior to testing any materials needed will be sanitized and cleaned properly.
- During testing, breaks will be permitted; however, your child will need to remain in designated areas and continue to follow PPE guidelines.
- Upon completion of testing, the school psychologist/related service provider will provide the parent/guardian with necessary information on next steps and timeline.
